December 6, 2023

MONETT, Mo., Dec. 6, 2023 /PRNewswire/ -- Jack Henry™ (Nasdaq: JKHY) was named as one of America's most responsible companies by Newsweek. This prestigious award is presented by Newsweek and Statista Inc., the world-leading statistics portal and industry ranking provider.

"We are honored to be recognized for our dedication to sustainable practices, social responsibility, and ethical operations," said Tara Brown, Jack Henry's head of Corporate Sustainability. "Corporate sustainability is a strategic investment for our stakeholders. By prioritizing responsible practices, we cultivate trust, foster resilience, and create enduring value."

America's Most Responsible Companies ranking focuses on a holistic view of corporate responsibility that considers environment, social, and corporate governance. The analysis is based on two metrics:

- KPI research: More than 30 KPIs were researched for the top 2,000 public companies by revenue with headquarters in the U.S.
- Public Survey: A survey of 17,000 U.S. residents was used to evaluate the companies' corporate social responsibility (CSR) reputation. Respondents were asked to select companies familiar to them and then to evaluate those companies' CSR performance in general and in the three subdimensions: social, environmental, and governance.

In the final step, an overall score was calculated for each company that had been analyzed. The final list recognizes the top 600 most responsible companies in the United States, spanning 14 industries.
