Item 8.01 Other Events.

On December 20, 2013, Jack Henry & Associates, Inc. (the "Company") announced that it has entered into a formal agreement ("Agreement") with The Comptroller of the Currency, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, and the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis (the "Regulators"). The Regulators together regulate the Company's operations as the Federal Financial Institutions Examination Council ("FFIEC"). Over a year ago, operations at the Company's Lyndhurst, NJ processing center were temporarily but significantly disrupted by Super Storm Sandy, impacting the financial institutions served by that facility until the Company was able to return to normal operations. The Agreement commits the Company to a process of assessing, improving and monitoring its disaster recovery and business continuity plans and the management of related risks across the Company.

Following resumption of normal operations at the Lyndhurst facility, the Company conducted a thorough review of all of its processing operations and its disaster recovery and business continuity plans. Based on the results of this review a number of changes in management, organizational structure, technology, processes and governance were implemented. Many of the items required by the Agreement were implemented or were being implemented prior to the Company's execution of the Agreement. The Agreement commits the Company to a process of regular reporting on corrective actions and to monitoring of its compliance with applicable regulations and guidance from the Regulators and the FFIEC. The Agreement does not impose any fines or penalties on the Company, and reflects the lowest possible level of official action by the Regulators.

The Company recorded material costs and expenses associated with the 2012 hurricane events at the Lyndhurst, NJ facility in its prior fiscal year ended June 30, 2013 and it is not anticipated that costs associated with compliance with the Agreement will be material.
